Dr. Frank, the very learned and distinguished Editor of the Union-Review, in discoursing upon the delinquent and disturbances in a number of our educational institutions, propounds a very serious and far-reaching question to the Editor of the People's Defender. The question—whether the same evil genius that Convention and caused a rupture in that august and sacred body was not stirred the waters of the National possessing the management of many of our schools and incapacitating them to an almost irreparable degree. Well, yes, Dr. Frank, the same evil and ever destructive spirit of autocracy, self-important Big "I" and Little "U" coupled with an exceedingly large degree of ignorance ever moving and possessing those entrusted with leadership; this aided and abetted by an overwhelming and sinful amount of moral cowardice and hypocrisy on the part of many constituents and members of the Baptist Church, answers for the deplorable state of affairs in many of our educational enterprises. Many very unworthy leaders and incompetent presidents, who have gotten into the work in its infancy and having surrounded themselves with an ignorant, fossilized figure-head, and too often corrupt and grafting Trustee Board Managers toward the progressive element of the public off and entrench themselves in places of vital importance to the race itself—our leaders and educators seem very unlike other people in many respects. Leaders and educators of most other races when they see a work declining in their hands, they simply step aside and repair to new fields; if they do not take this precaution the people and the trustees have courage enough to modestly tell them their time is out; but not so with the Colored man. He seems to stick as long as there is a pea in the dish, with nobody with sufficient courage to tell him his time is out or that his usefulness is at an end. That is true in our state, and we perceive it is true with our people everywhere.

—People's Defender.

The world is in a deadly conflict, the prime purpose of which is to destroy "Individualism," "bossism," "absolutism," and to enthroned democracy, the rule of the people. If this can be done, the blood shed that it has taken, the lives that have been sacrificed will not have been in vain. For such an heritage handed down to the next generation will be unequalled by that given to any generation by its predecessor.

—The People's Defender.

The establishment of a Universal Democracy seems to be the duty of this age and most splendidly are the liberty-loving people of the world performing it. Nothing is more difficult than that the Negro is called upon to share a part in this great task—helping as he is to establish a world-wide liberty and a lasting universal peace, he will, when it is attained, by virtue of the sacrifice of his own blood and life, be a partaker in that liberty and peace; and this by the same sacred right that any other race of men claim it. The shedding of blood seems to establish the highest right and confirm the most sacred title to liberty and freedom. "For," says the philosopher, "he who would be free himself must strike the first blow and establish his claim with blood."

—The People's Defender.
